

municipalities who hadn't yet adopted Complete Streets policies to understand the benefits of supporting biking, walking and transit for users of all ages and abilities. In addition, GMTMA worked with all municipalities to support their infrastructure grant applications to fund the improvements to realize those benefits.

GMTMA Offers Travel Training Session

GMTMA and NJTIP @ Rutgers kicked off the Mercer County Travel Training program in October 2014 with the residents of the Harriet Bryan House and Elm Court senior housing residences in Princeton. The Travel Training provided to Elm Court and Harriet Bryan consisted of two sessions with residents; Transit 101 and Steppin' Out on NJ Transit.

In the first session we met with interested residents in the community room of the Harriet Bryan House and reviewed public transportation options available in the area, and taught how to plan trips, obtain tickets, pay fares and use accessible feature on buses and trains. For the second session residents went on a field trip, using the Princeton freeB bus to transfer to NJ TRANSIT's 605 bus and travel to Mercer Mall. In addition to being a learning experience, the day was also served as a social outing for the group with lunch at a local restaurant.

GMTMA and NJTIP @ Rutgers are available to provide similar travel training seminars and field trips at senior housing facilities, municipal senior centers/organizations, job placement agencies and organizations, agencies and organizations for individuals with disabilities, and community based organizations serving transportation disadvantaged populations. If you are interested in having travel training for your community group or organization contact cdixon@gmtma.org.
